

Power supply unit

Usually the power supply should give you no problem.

Note that you should not screw the screws holding the power supply too tight. (Because the power supply frame is in aluminium)

The screws holding the cables should be screwed very tight, however.

Technical note

The outgoing power between red and black should be 5.12 ± 0.05 V